WEeping ECZEMA ON CHILD'S HEAD

Became Inflamed. Hair Came Out. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. In Less Than Month Eruptions Disappeared and Hair Grew Back.

Cimarron, Colo.—"My little girl had weeping eczema several years ago. Pus oozed out of the pores of the scalp in a spot as large as a dollar. Then it pulled up and became inflamed. In the same place the hair came out. The child exclaimed when I combed her hair near the affected part or washed it.

"I used medicine for about six months and it dried up for a while and then started again. When I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment the eruptions disappeared in less than a month and her hair grew back." (Signed) Mrs. Chas. Carmy, Sept. 30, 1914. Many estimable lives have been embittered by skin afflictions, due, in most cases, to neglect in infancy and childhood. Delicate skins readily become irritated and severe eruptions develop. These treatment after treatment is tried and found wanting until life becomes a nightmare of torture which Cuticura might have averted.

FAVORABLE OLD PHILADELPHIA RELIC TO BE HERE ON WAY TO THE FAIR

Pendleton will have an opportunity of seeing the famous Liberty Bell which announced the birth of the republic with such mad clangor that it cracked its throat, when it passed through here enroute from its resting place in Philadelphia to San Francisco. No request has been made by local authorities for an exhibition here and it is possible that without such a request is made, the bell will be taken through Pendleton without being shown. Baker and La Grande have already sent formal requests for an exhibition of the bell to the school children and are practically sure of seeing it.

An announcement from one of the committee of Philadelphia citizens who will accompany the bell as a bodyguard places Pendleton on the itinerary. The bell will leave Philadelphia on July 5 and its stops, according to the present schedule, include Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, Cheyenne, Salt Lake, Ogden, Huntington, Baker, La Grande, Pendleton, Walla Walla, Spokane and Portland.
